Hi Alice,

That's alright, I hope you feel better soon! Those tasks are fine for me as well, see you tomorrow.

Beth

Hi Beth,

First of all I apologise for not completing my tasks last week, I was a little unorganised so I planned to do some work on Saturday to catch up but developed a chest infection which I'm still trying to recover from. I've moved these tasks onto this week so they can be finished. I'm hoping to be well enough to come in on Wednesday so we can have a 3 hour game jam together to discuss last week and new iterations for this week.

Other tasks that I thought of for you would be to update the design document as we haven't done this recently, and to update the ruleset to fit with this week's iteration. Is this okay with you? These tasks would be 1.5 hours each.

As we haven't received all of the play test feedback from the group on Wednesday, I will keep sending a reminder to them to send it back to us, so I can complete the task of typing up feedback. I'll also upload the playtest videos as soon as I can.

Thanks,

Alice
