Hi Alice,

Thanks for keeping me updated. I've now finished all of my tasks, I had a couple of ideas for the question cards (I tried to keep the designs quite minimal and just a border for the cards) but found it difficult to come up with character card concepts. I've also uploaded the fonts so we can have a look at those together tomorrow.

For the truth and the liar cards I really like your concept for the card with a face split in half. I also really liked the eye design and I feel like if we don't use it as a truth/liar card design we could definitely use it in other aspects of the design of the game as it represents the theme quite well.

Looking forward to discussing the designs more with you tomorrow,
Beth

Hi Beth,

Just to let you know I've just finished all of my tasks, was hoping to get them done sooner but my laptop was playing up yesterday. I think I have a few good ideas for the truth/liar cards but I struggled a little bit with the board designs. Let me know what you think when you see what I uploaded to GitHub. I hope you're getting on okay, we should at least be able to do 2 play test sessions next week, looking forward to hearing feedback!

See you on Monday,

Alice
