Hi Alice,

I've completed my task to update the ruleset which I have uploaded to Github and I've also updated the design document with the last 2 iterations of our game and all the questions we have so far but as Github desktop won't let me upload it on my laptop I will bring it to university tomorrow and upload it then.

Beth

Hi Alice,

Thanks for keeping me updated. I should be making a start on my tasks tonight.

Hi Beth,

I've just uploaded the setup illustration for the ruleset and the game board design that we discussed in the game jam earlier this week, this is really basic so we can try it out when playtesting next week, but I think we could make some nice artwork for this once we decide on our theme.

I'll be leaving the task of typing up playtesting feedback for the end of the week as we should be able to retrieve the feedback sheets from Alex tomorrow, so I can do it all of the feedback we received at once. I've almost sorted out one copy of the new iteration, the boards are printed for a 6 player game and the counters for voting should be here by tomorrow or Friday, ready for next week.

See you tomorrow,

Alice
